

The 360° Interior Architecture Agency

15 November 2021 · By the editorial team "Maison & Jardin" Magazine

Interior architecture as an art of living

Huma is an independent interior architecture agency supporting individuals and professionals in transforming their spaces with a bespoke, sensitive and committed approach.

Specialized in turnkey projects, the agency stands out for its 360° vision of interior design: from simple décor consultation to the complete restructuring of a space, including technical design, material selection and construction supervision.

A signature: functional elegance

At Huma, each project is designed to reflect a unique identity. The agency pays particular attention to personalization, user comfort and the harmony of atmospheres. Technical expertise goes hand in hand with a strong sensitivity for materials, colours and textures, to bring to life interiors that are as aesthetic as they are durable.

A name, a philosophy

Huma means “well-being” in Kikongo. A promise the agency embodies through creations designed to promote softness of living, ergonomics and balance.

Consulting, renovation, extension...

Whether you want to redesign a living room, rethink a professional space or extend your home, Huma supports you at every stage, with a single objective: revealing the potential of your spaces while respecting your desires, your lifestyle and your budget. First in-home consultation (1h30), soon available as a gift voucher.

Huma Home: the home extends into the details

True to its love of beauty and craftsmanship, the agency launched Huma Home, a collection of high-end wax textile accessories designed to enrich interiors with colourful and vibrant touches. A wooden furniture collection is in preparation.

A pop-up sale is scheduled for late November : follow on Instagram!
